ALMA MATER

Hail to thee, our Alma Mater,
Seminary fair;
May achievements crown thy labors
Is our earnest prayer.

Chorus:

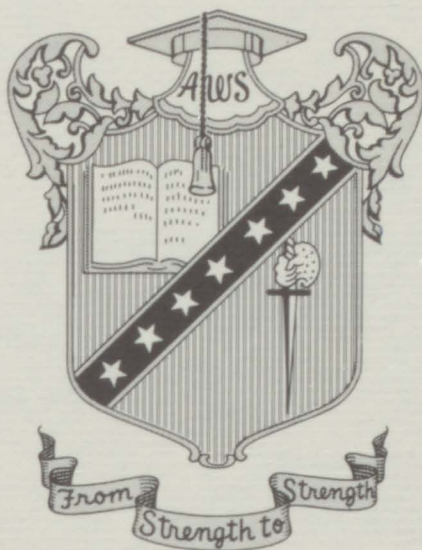

Hearts turned toward our Alma Mater
May our lives at length
Prove thy daughters bear thy motto;
"On From Strength to Strength."

Deep and true as those blue waters
Thou art reared above,
May the characters thou mold
Hold thee in their love.

(Chorus)

Pure as yonder snow-clad mountains
Where our glances fall,
May we in the years to follow
Answer to thy call.

(Chorus)

DEDICATION

Mrs. Lillian Gerlach

"Little deeds of kindness, little words of love,
Help to make earth happy like the heaven above."

For all the errands that you have done for everyone, we thank you.
Without you, we would never get anything done or never get anywhere on time.

Halloween Skit

Whenever I say I'm an Annie,
Whenever I mention the Sem,
You know I'm a proper young lady
From my hair to the length of my hem.

Refrain: I try to occupy
My mind with my studies and things discreet.
Forget the joys
Of dating boys
And be happy and gay in retreat.

When first I arrived at the Annie,
I was filled with Original Sin,
And to bring about my reformation
The staff could not wait to begin.

Our dear Mrs. Mosby, Director,
With a glance that resembled a frown,
Said, "Dear let me make a suggestion:
Cut your bangs, and your skirt must come down."

The Chaplain decided I needed
Some guidance in matters divine.
But if his points of view I acknowledge,
Why can't he accept some of mine?

Their aim was to train me for college,
Indeed, they said I was quite bright
But why the insistence on Shakespeare?
Can't date him on Saturday night.

My diet it needed attention,
My figure was less than a dream,
But unless someone closes down Rosie's
I'll always be broad at the beam.

I always do well at athletics,
The exercise builds up my frame.
But I knew I was out of condition
When the staff won the volleyball game.

One day I got sick to my stomach,
To the infirmary I sped for a rest.
The nurse she was not sympathetic
She had heard of my Chemistry test.

We always have fun at our dances,
Though the chaperones keep us in sight
Whispering, "Girls please remember you're ladies,
And stay out of dark corners tonight."

Three cheers for our brand new headmaster
So tall and so handsome is he.
But if I get into hot water
Girlish charms will do nothing for me.

We've come to the end of our story,
And all of you here must agree,
That, in spite of the faculty's efforts,
Two sweet little Annies are we.

TO THE CLASS OF '66

This is our first, and last, year together. My gratitude goes with you for the support which has been given me during this time. I wish that we might have had other years together for it has been a joy to assist in accomplishing the goals which you have set for yourselves or to aid in formulating them.

Accomplishments which include creativity in drama and music, an earnest desire to succeed academically, and a sincere interest in exploring has made its mark in many areas. Some of you have obtained desired goals; others have altered their course in light of new interests and ideas. Each, however, has made her own particular contribution to the class and to the School.

Each of you is unique. And to this end the School has endeavored to encourage the development of the special capacities which each enjoys. Many of you are rapidly gaining knowledge of the particular skills and aptitudes which are yours. May you continue to do so during succeeding years.

My thoughts and prayers go with the members of the Class of 1966 as they join the ranks of the Seminary alumnae.

SENIORS

Halloween Skit

Christmas and Easter and summer vacation
Rosie's and downtown and walks to Division
Rainy dark winters that drip into Springs
These are a few of our favorite things.

Dirty red ties and the cat in the chapel
Burgers on Tuesdays and crisp apple crapple
Brown paper packages tied up with strings
These are a few of our favorite things.

Dimes for the pay phone and quarters for laundry
Rubber bands for pigtails and an after-light party
First in the line when there's donuts to dunk
These are a few of our favorite junk.

When a test comes
And we flunk it
When we're feeling sad
We simply remember our favorite things
And then we don't feel so bad.

THE SENIORS

For many amazing days of growth, realization, knowledge, and for many not so amazing days of confusion, sadness, and loneliness we are thankful.

A Senior is a girl of changing moods and faces. She is intelligent, capable, inventive, often questioning, and often too demanding of herself and others. She is growing . . . perhaps she is grown. She looks to the future with the strength of her youth. Aside from being an "Annie," a "red tie," and a student, the Senior is firstly a human being.

Dear Annies:

You will all keep the show going on. My longing for home wins over my strong wish to stay. But my heart will never forget the year I had with you.

If I try to stand still and listen now, I can hear steps going faster and faster behind me. I want to stop and enjoy what is around me. But I cannot. I have to keep on walking. The hours go quickly. One after another. I have to let go of the hands which keep me here.

There are walls that remember my laughter, but there are also walls that remember my tears.

What stream will not run out of the school; like a river that goes heavily between calm banks. It is a river of power and of possibilities but still filled with worry and questions. The river floats between banks with our future in its waves. What we have gathered in dreams, hopes, and wishes is too precious to die when the river comes to the ocean. But although people might not notice it, there will always be something of us in the enormous ocean. Sometimes we will meet again; your waves and my wave might see each other very soon, or in a long time on a sunny day. Do not get too close to the sand. I do not want you to dry out.

JUNIOR CLASS

The Junior year is a busy and exciting one. We are busy with college boards, college speakers, decorating the Great Hall at Christmas time, earning privileges, and training for Senior duties. The end of the year brings preparation for the Junior Prom, decorating for May Day and eventually taking over as Seniors.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

During the year the Sophomores have participated in many activities including a coke party in which representatives of the Tacoma schools were invited for a tour of the School. The annual Winter Formal "My Fair Lady" was our largest undertaking which was a great success. Our last project as a class was serving for the Junior Prom in April.

They misunderstand and are misunderstood. They are buoyant with fun and try hard when they can. But somehow it slips and the good is turned dead. The purpose is gone and you must try again. The good times are gone, and the bad ones have come. You know how it is when you're young.

Spring

The daffodils are coming up,
Yellow is their color,
They always are so pretty,
I wish they'd come some more.

If I were such a little bee,
I'd look at every flower,
So I could smell the fragrance,
To remember for forever.

One day I picked a whole bouquet,
To take home to my mother,
To decorate our house with lovely smells,
Of daffodils and heather.

SPORTS

Sports Year

The last quarter started out with a bang. Melissa sped down the court with the ball, passed it to Mills who passed it to Marjorie. Seconds later it was passing through the basket without even touching the rim. Two points for the Seniors.

Then, by a quirk of fate, the faculty got the ball. But, with great dexterity, Bargion intercepted the ball and passed it to Marjorie who made another basket. The crowd screamed and yelled. (Of course they were all on the Senior side of the court.)

Finally, after much effort, the faculty got the ball down to their end of the court. Mr. Darrah foolishly tried for a basket but missed. With lightning speed Marjorie took the ball, passed it to Mills who threw it down to the other end to Melissa. Obviously another basket was made. Two more points for the Seniors.

By pure good luck, which no one could understand, Miss Fay got the ball and passed it to Miss MacGregor, who made a basket. (The only two points for the Faculty.) Silent boos and hisses were easily imagined.

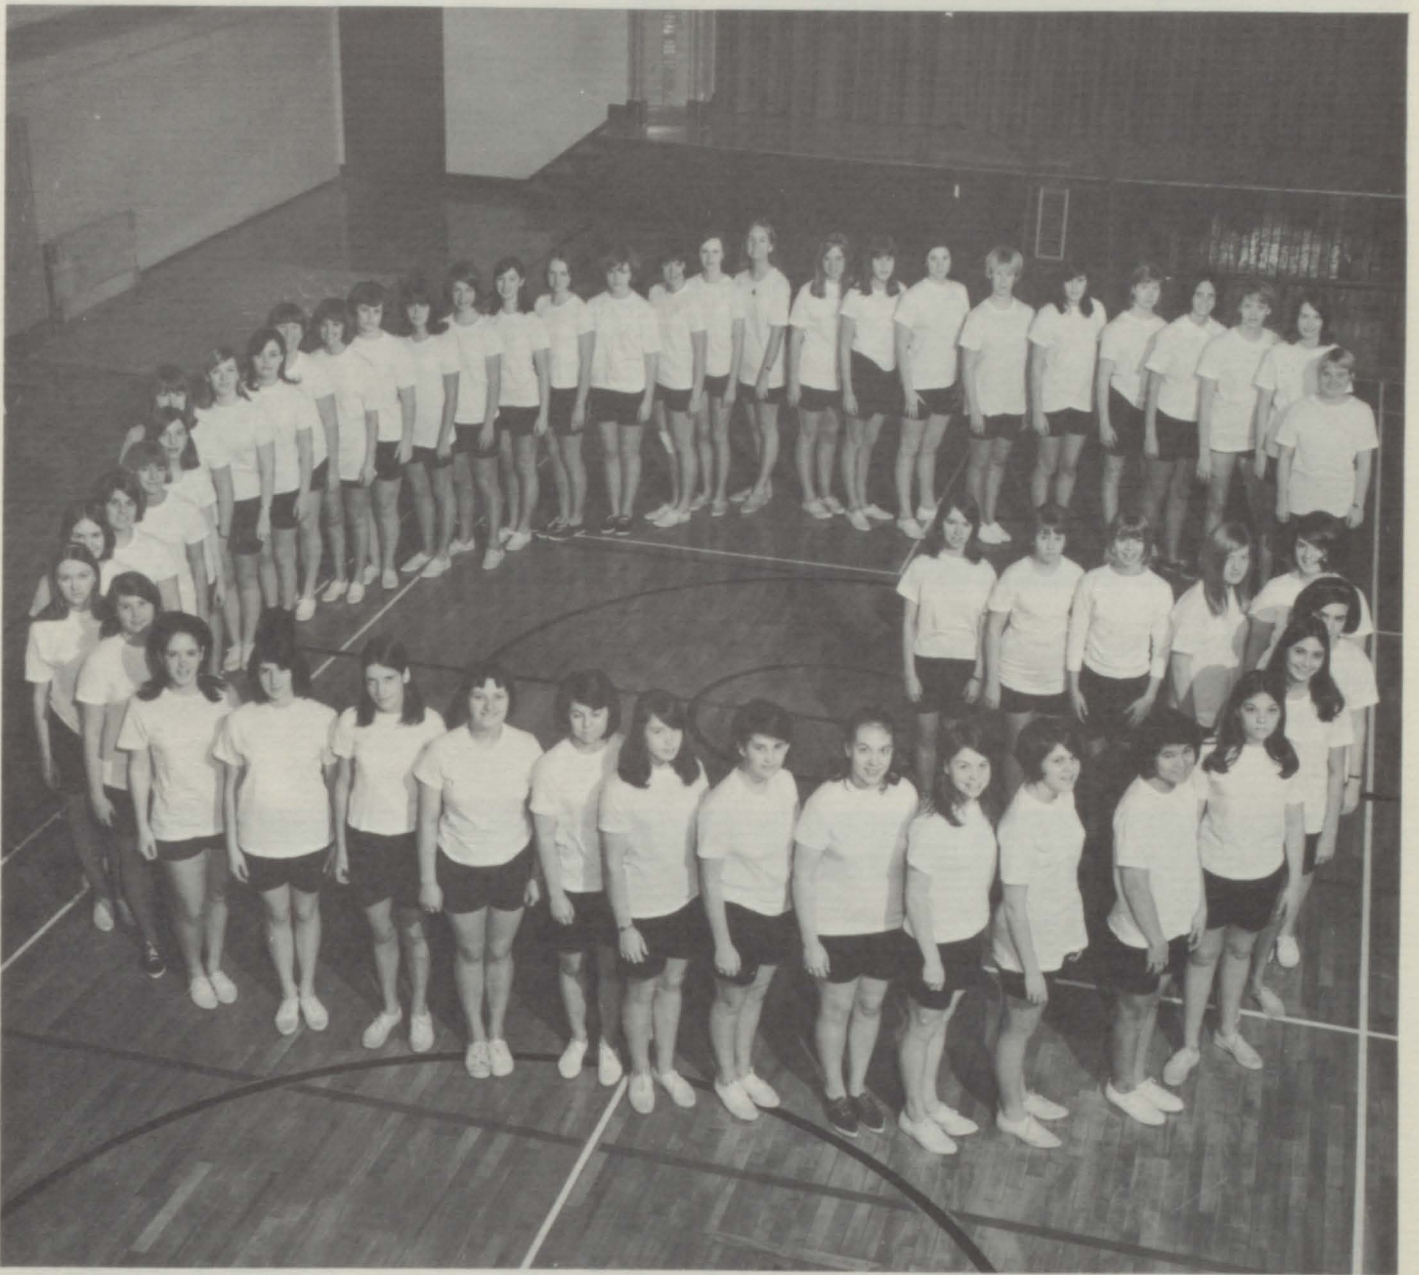

The second hand of the clock slowly ticked away. 49 seconds left to play. The ball was played back and forth on the court. Finally two seconds were left. The spectators were on the edges of their seats. Suddenly Mills grabbed the ball and gave a mighty overhand sling throw to the other end of the court. Into the basket it went just as the bell rang. True to their word the Seniors had won the game — 42 to 2.
